P. 327. Cap. 7. De totius orbis descriptione Ptolemaei scilicet Philadelphi jussu comparata. Nempe haec e Claudii Ptolemaei opere geographico ejusque tabulis pictis ab homine rei ignaro graece conflata, una cum aliis ejusdem farinae libellis regi Ptolemaeo tribuitur. Nec aliter sentivit v. cl. H. Kiepert prof. Berolinensis, cui de hoc argumento literas uberrimas mense superioris anni Decembri datas debeo. Attamen magni sunt pretii ea quao Syrus de suo addidit de religione Christiana ultra Portas Caspias propagata et scriptura Hunnorum sermoni adaptata; id quod »ante hos 20 annos et amplius" factum esse narratur, dum ipse narrator scribere se profitetur durante Josephi Catholici medici regii apud Persarum regem auctoritate. Atqui, teste Barhebraeo, »Josephus Chosroae regis opera, cujus medicus erat, anno Graecorum 863 electus, tribus post annis depositus fuit" Ass. B. O. II. 413. Ergo scripta est narratio inter nostros annos fere 552 et 555, et scripturae Hunnicae origo paullo ante annum 530 ponenda. Annum 554—555 (Sel. 866) etiam p. 336 vs. 17 invenies.

P. 341. De Theodosii ep. Hierosolymitani obitu. Cf. p. 129.

P. 346. De Jesaja religioso, qui Timothei Aeluri temporibus vixit. Quum »etiam hanc" narrationem Zacharias scholasticus scripsisse affirmetur, et is quidem qui Historiam Ecclesiasticam composuerit, superiorem, et hanc quidem solam, eidem auctori vindicare ausus sum. Quorum enim ante Theodosium vitae narrantur (Nicolaus Myrae ep. et ante hunc Gregorius Theologus), hi a Zachariae laboribus historicis nimis esse alieni videntur. Qui autem p. 347 Jesajae aequales enumerantur Petrus et Theodorus in cod. nostro non occurrunt, nisi forte ad ingentem Petri Iberi vitam (f. 48 r. b.—78 v. b.) redeundum et hunc cum utroque monacho Aegyptiaco a librario nostro intelligi censendum sit; quod equidem haud probabile esse arbitror, cum propter hominum tum ob scribendi rationis discrimen.

P. 326. Cap. 6. De Basilisco presb. Antiocheno qui cum Audona duce Amidam venit.

P. 327. Cap. 7. De totius orbis descriptione Ptolemaei scilicet Philadelphi jussu comparata. Nempe haec e Claudii Ptolemaei opere geographico ejusque tabulis pictis ab homine rei ignaro graece conflata, una cum aliis ejusdem farinae libellis regi Ptolemaeo tribuitur. Nec aliter sensivit v. cl. H. Kiepert prof. Berolinensis, cui de hoc argumento literas uberrimas mense superioris anni Decembri datas debeo. Attamen magni sunt pretii ea quae Syrus de suo addidit de religione Christiana ultra Portas Caspias propagata et scriptura Hunnorum sermoni adaptata; id quod »ante hos 20 annos et amplius" factum esse narratur, dum ipse narrator scribere se profitetur durante Josephi Catholici medici regii apud Persarum regem auctoritate. Atqui, teste Barhebraeo, »Josephus Chosroae regis opera, cujus medicus erat, anno Graecorum 863 electus, tribus post annis depositus fuit" Ass. B. O. II. 413. Ergo scripta est narratio inter nostros annos fere 552 et 555, et scripturae Hunnicae origo paullo ante annum 530 ponenda. Annum 554—555 (Sel. 866) etiam p. 336 vs. 17 invenies.

P. 341. De Theodosii ep. Hierosolymitani obitu. Cf. p. 129.

P. 346. De Jesaja religioso, qui Timothei Aeluri temporibus vixit. Quum »etiam hanc" narrationem Zacharias scholasticus scripsisse affirmetur, et is quidem qui Historiam Ecclesiasticam composuerit, superiorem, et hanc quidem solam, eidem auctori vindicare ausus sum. Quorum enim ante Theodosium vitae narrantur (Nicolaus Myrae ep. et ante hunc Gregorius Theologus), hi a Zachariae laboribus historicis nimis esse alieni videntur. Qui autem p. 347 Jesajae aequales enumerantur Petrus et Theodorus in cod. nostro non occurrunt, nisi forte ad ingentem Petri Iberi vitam (f. 48 r. b.—78 v. b.) redeundum et hunc cum utroque monacho Aegyptiaco a librario nostro intelligi censendum sit; quod equidem haud probabile esse arbitror, cum propter hominum tum ob scribendi rationis discrimen.

alio quam nostro exemplari utrumque haustum esse apparet e varietate lectionis p. 289 ann. 2.

12174 duas continet narrationes singulares, quarum posterior Zachariae tribuitur, et prior eidem vindicanda esse videtur; de qua re dixi in h. t. Conspectu; utramque enim in majoris operis calce addidi.

14620 saeculi fere IX pergamenus varii argumenti, cujus scripturae specimen vide Zeitschr. d. d. m. Ges. XXII (1868) p. 549. Hinc p. 328—334 varias lectiones collegi ad caput Historiae Miscellaneae geographicum pertinentes; ex alio enim quam nostro exemplari illum derivatum est.

14641 et 14650 historias Septem Dormientium et martyrum Homeritarum offerunt (cf. t. I. p. 25), quas autem cum 17202 conferre operae pretium visum non est.

Et satius esse duxi, ut nunc est horum studiorum conditio, plures Syrorum libros in lucem proferre quam singulis nimium temporis impendendo alios justo diutius in umbra relinquere. Verborum emendationes, quas sive illi debeo sive ipse in libro cum discipulis legendo reperi, versioni latinae addere quam in hoc tomo notare malui.

fontibus a Syro conquisita esse videntur. Nam fere omnia de rebus orientalibus, veluti de martyribus Homeritis, de bellis et invasionibus Persicis, de Marae Amidensis et Rabulae Edesseni scriptis agunt; adde quod de urbe Roma quasi longinqua et lectoribus parum cognita sermo fit, et geographia etiam in libri fine addita hominem rei literariae Graecorum ridicule ignorantem, denique ultimae paginae in Oriente vitam degentem ibique hominum testimonia colligentem demonstrant. Et hoc quoque notatu dignum est, titulos codicis nostri paginis 36 minio inscriptos »Zachariae historiam ecclesiasticam" nonnisi a l. III. c. 1 ad VI. 4 octies continuo, praeterea aliquo scribae errore in f. 4 v. et f. 43 v. (I. 8) commemorare, dum et ante l. III. et post l. VI narrationis tantum argumenta indicantur [1]).

Praeter Historiam Miscellaneam reliquos etiam Musei codices consului, in quibus aut aliquam ejusdem operis partem aut Zachariae nomen exstare Wrightii nostri ope compertum habebam. Paucissimi sunt et praeter unum in tomis prioribus jam descripti:

triarchas enumeraturus est qui regnante Anastasio primatum tenuerint. Qui quum ab A. D. 491 ad 518 imperaverit, recte haec nomina dantur [1]:

Romae: Felix (483—492 [2]), Symmachus (498—514), H o r m i s d a s (514—523).

Alexandriae: Athanasius (490—496), Joannes (496—505), Joannes alter (505—517), D i o s c o r u s (517—519).

Antiochiae: [3]) Flavianus (498—512), Severus (512—519).

Constantinopoleos: Euphemius (490—495), Macedonius (495—511), Timotheus (511—517), Joannes (517—520), Epiphanius (520—535).

Hierosolymorum: Sallustius (486—494), Elias (494—513), Joannes (513—524), Petrus (524—544).

Atqui luce clarius est, si jure h o d i e sedere dicantur Hormisdas et Dioscorus, hoc dici inter annos 517 et 519, necdum Epiphanium et Petrum eodem tempore scriptori innotuisse. Itaque heic deprehendere mihi videor cum Zachariae Rhetoris circa annum 518 scribentis tum Syri manum qui illius narrationem continuaverit. — Jam vero si illa jam aetate historiam literis mandavit Zacharias, vix dubitandum quin diu ante annum 555, ne 560 dicam, eam scribendo cessaverit. Et monet quidem Gallandus [4]), jam anno 553 Palladium Mitylenes episcopum in conciliorum subscriptionibus apparere, cujus locum anno 536 Zacharias occupaverat.

mine optime quadrant, nisi quod l. VIII c. 6 pro l. IX positum est. Nec tamen e Londinensi exemplo Romanum depromptum esse docet lectionis varietas compluribus in locis manifesta. Adde quod ipsius Londinensis contextus scribendi erroribus ne compilatoris quidem sed librarii vulgaris manum, eamque parum accuratam etsi elegantiorem, prodit. Nonnulla correxit aut idem aut lector aliquis, veluti Jod quiescens vocabulis permultis praeter sermonis leges affixum.

Etiam Dionysium Barçalibaeum (Ass. II. 53) pericopen evangelicam de muliere adultera, quam e Zacharia Rhetore episcopo Melitenensi depromere se dicit, revera Historiae Miscellaneae nostrae debere suspicor, quae l. VIII. c. 7 in Marae Amidensis Prologo eadem verba exhibet.

Quae e Zacharia Rhetore affert Evagrius, ea omnia apud Syrum invenimus, nempe in hujus libris tertio, quarto et quinto[1]). At cavendum omnino arbitror, ne ea omnia quae post libri tertii exordium Syrus offert, e Zacharia petita esse temere affirmemus. Jam nihil ulterius ex eo protulit Evagrius; id quod parum quidem argumenti esset nisi in codice nostro disertum exstare videretur rei testimonium. Etenim, dum h. t. p. 325 vs. 2 (l. XII c. 4) Justiniani annum 33, p. 336 vs. 16 (XII. 7) ejusdem annum 28 scriptor commemorat, i. e. A. Quaerendum autem jamprimum, utrum Zachariae graeci versionem syriacam, an potius historiam ab alio scriptore ex hoc aliisque fontibus compositam teneamus. Et Syrum quidem auctorem omnia demonstrant. Nam neque operi praemissus est Zachariae Historiae titulus; et libri I cap. 4 et 5 sunt de Asenethae libello graece reperto et syriace vertendo; et f. 67 v. a. b. tamquam tertii demum libri fons commemoratur Zachariae historia; et revera librorum I et II vel conspectum perlegenti apparebit, fieri vix potuisse ut vir doctus, quamvis aevi byzantini, imperatoris ministro Eupraxio tam ineptam et quasi ventis conflatam rerum farraginem unius Historiae nomine dedicaret. Imo monachi cujusdam Syri doctum laborem agnoscimus, hominis ambitiosi, qui miscellum codicem e variis chartis congerens (cujus rei et in Museo Britannico crebra sunt exempla), in formam quandam secum cohaerentem materias redigere conatus est, hanc unam, credo, genuini historici esse provinciam arbitratus.

Ex hujus igitur congerie manasse capita illa Romae asservata, fontis capitum numeri docent quos illic scriba indicavit. Horum nonnullos omiserunt Maronitae Majani; plures enim affert Assemanius [1]), qui omnes cum Londinensi volu-Jamdiu viris doctis innotuerunt capita quaedam historica anonyma in cod. Vat. Syr. 24 seu 146 servata, cujus post alia e Socrate et Theodoreto excerpta tertiam partem occupant. Zachariae nomen iis ex Evagrio et Barçalibaeo restituit Assemanius in Bibl. Or. paginis jam laudatis, quibuscum cf. p. 53, atque argumenti conspectum et aliqua verborum specimina cum lectoribus communicavit. Saeculo post integra describi et latine verti curavit Majus, in cujus Scr. Vet. Nov. Coll. tomi X syriace paginas 332—360 occupant. Quae in quatuordecim partes diviserat ille, hujus scribae Maronitae in 19 distribuerunt; deinde aut interpres aut editor capitis 13 partem alteram pro 14[to] habuit, 15 pro 14 et sic porro. Denique caput 19, cujus versionem dedit Majus in praef. p. XII sqq., vigesimum facere neglexit. Unde colligere licet, in codice Romano capita non numerari[1]).

De Zachariae historiae ratione et argumento imprudenter e cod. Vat. judicavit uterque vir doctissimus, ac si in prima ejus parte Socratem, in secunda Theodoretum expilaverit auctor, deinde ipse Marte suo locutus sit. Hodie autem capitum Romanorum fontem habemus in cod. Mus. Brit. 17202, de quo vide Anecd. t. I. p. 214[2]), pergameno 25×17 centi-Dubitat Majus [1]), an fuerit noster Zacharias ille patria gazaeus, in cujus (et cognominis ducis ascalonensis) honorem odam composuit Joannes grammaticus ejus civis, Phoebo eum adaequans. Quodsi recte Zachariae ea tribui quae h. t. pp. 341 sqq. edita sunt, eidem sententiae suffragari videtur locus p. 343 vs. 15, ubi Theodosium in exilio mortuum eadem nocte »beato Petro patri nostro" apparuisse legimus, Alexandriae tunc degenti. Etenim Theodosii familiaris Petrus Iber erat, Gazae episcopus (p. 126; cf. 131 vs. 5—6); huic jam antea similis visio contigerat (p. 128); Palaestinam reliquerat (ib.); deinde nobis occurrit in monasterio quodam quod neque Alexandriae nec tamen in Syria Palaestinave quaerendum (p. 131 vs. 8—11); atqui Petrum illum »patrem nostrum" non semper Alexandriae vixisse ex ipsa urbis mentione p. 343 facta satis apparet. Denique reputandum, Monophysitae Gazam relinquenti nullum tunc vel propius vel aptius Aegypto refugium fuisse, ac Petrum Iberum tanta civium gratia floruisse (p. 126 sq.), ut patris nostri titulo nemo ex illorum sententia dignior inveniri posset. Quare scriptorem gazaeum in illa de Theodosii obitu narratione verba facere existimem, et Procopii Gazaei epistolas (Maj. Auct. Class. t. IV) ad eundem Zachariam datas esse. Caeterum de Zacharia scripserunt Cavaeus, Fabricius, Gallandus, a quibus sua deprompserunt Migne in editione Basilii Seleuciae et Zachariae Parisiis anno 1864 vulgata et Demetracopulus in Bibliothecae Ecclesiast. vol. I (Lips. 1866).

Zachariam Rhetorem vel Scholasticum, de quo Assem. in Bibl. Orient. II. 54—62 disputavit, non Melitenes sed Mitylenes Lesbiae episcopum fuisse, neque eum syriace sed graece scripsisse, jam ante hos quatuordecim annos probare mihi visus sum [1]). Habemus hodie disertum Syri interpretis testimonium [2]). Quod autem ad episcopi sedem attinet, vix credendum opinor, codicis 12174 Mus. Brit. (Anecd. t. II. p. 29—30) scriptorem, monachum prope Melitenen habitantem et Monophysitarum famae studiosum, Zachariam nonnisi scholastici et historici ecclesiastici titulis (h. t. p. 347 vs. 5—6) appellaturum fuisse, siquidem etiam ipsius dioeceseos fuisset ille episcopus; qualis rei memoria per episcoporum catalogos, diptycha, aliaque documenta haud facile interire poterat.

X (Romae 1838) p. 361 ann.: »Has nobiles Zachariae historici partes, graece ab auctore suo scriptas, deinde ab anonymo factas syriacas ...." Et olim Zachariae historiam in quadam byzantina bibliotheca exstitisse ostendit idem in praef. p. XII.
